Abstract: Amitav Ghosh has won accolades from all around the globe for his significant works, in which he shows empathy for the society's oppressed members. In his most important works, you can perceive that he cares for the least fortunate. His writings make explicit the issues that underprivileged people face with estrangement, migration, and existential crises. By making them the main characters, special attention has been paid to these people's voices, struggles, and sacrifices. This article will examine a handful of Amitav Ghosh's works and highlight how his existentialist viewpoint on history and society is highlighted. The Circle of Reason, The Calcutta Chromosomes, The Hungry Tide, and The Shadow Lines are the novels chosen for this essay. He accurately portrays the demanding and unhappy state of society, which is seen to be a dynamic change in the society, in these works.

Keywords: Integration, Cultural identity.
