Abstract: This comprehensive review aims to assess the legal liability of healthcare professionals in India, with a focus on analyzing the role of law and precedents. The healthcare sector in India is rapidly expanding, and as such, it is essential to understand the legal framework that governs the professional conduct of healthcare providers. This review explores relevant legislation, case precedents, and judicial interpretations to provide a comprehensive understanding of the legal liability faced by healthcare professionals in India. The research methodology involves an extensive review of relevant legal statutes, scholarly articles, court judgments, and legal commentaries. The analysis section critically evaluates the legal provisions and court decisions to identify the key factors influencing the liability of healthcare professionals. The conclusion presents a synthesis of the findings and highlights the need for a balanced approach that ensures patient protection while safeguarding the interests of healthcare professionals.

Keywords: Legal liability, Healthcare professionals, Precedents.
