

Role of Mathematics in the Development of Society

Jay Mamtora and Shubh Parmar

The Byramjee Jeejeebhoy College of Commerce, Mumbai, Maharashtra jay.mamtora@gmail.com

Abstract: Mathematics is a part of science, which manages numbers and their tasks. It includes estimation, calculation, taking care of issues and so forth. Its word reference importance expresses that, 'Math is the study of numbers and space' or 'Arithmetic is the study of estimation, amount and size'. It is careful, exact, methodical and a sensible subject. It might likewise be characterized as, 'Science is the investigation of amount, design, space and change; it has generally evolved, using deliberation and intelligent thinking, from counting, estimation, estimation, and the investigation of the shapes and movements of actual articles

Keywords: Scholarly, Social, Professional, Moral, Profound Turn of events and Ladies Strengthening