

A Research about Emotional Intelligence on Generations

Jay Mamtora and Jain Vidhika Manoj

The Byramjee Jeejeebhoy College of Commerce, Mumbai, Maharashtra jay.mamtora@gmail.com

Abstract: Outcome in the working environment takes much more than training, book information or experience. Associations and the cognizant, accomplishment situated directors needs a high pace of "the capacity to understand individuals on a deeper level" to find lasting success. The capacity to appreciate people on a deeper level is the capacity to distinguish and oversee individual feelings and the feelings of others. The capacity to understand people at their core (EQ) matters similarly as much as scholarly capacity (intelligence level). In the exploration Chan's (2006) EI12 scale was utilized for the proportion of the ability to understand people on a profound level. The principal question of the review is to examine the capacity to appreciate anyone on a profound level as indicated by ages. In this review, it is demonstrated that there is a no massive contrast about capacity to understand people on a deeper level in various ages

Keywords: Emotional intelligence, EI, ages