

A Sociological Study on the Role Conflict among Women Lawyers in Mumbai and Thane Districts

Dr. Jagannath B. Patil¹, Sunil Poddar², Tushar Patil³

I/C Principal¹, 3rd Year LLB², Professor³

Nalanda Law College, Gorai, Borivali (W), Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Abstract: The objective of this study is to examine the role conflicts experienced by female lawyers. Female lawyers are obligated to undertake several roles related to confiscation. This research elucidates the challenges encountered by women as a result of role conflict. The current study is an endeavor in this particular direction. This analysis addresses several significant concerns and integrates empirical evidence with theoretical perspectives to examine the current situation or status of women lawyers within society. The study encompasses all facets of the subject and examines the intricacy of challenges faced by female lawyers. This study utilizes empirical data obtained from interviews conducted with 230 female lawyers in the specific areas of Mumbai and Thane districts.

Keywords: role conflict, women lawyers, legal profession