

Latest Development in Accounting Software

Priti Yadav and Prof. Surekha Gaikwad

Student, TY BCOM and Guide

MIT Arts, Commerce and Science College, Alandi (D), Pune, India

Abstract: The research proposes to discuss the new development trends of accounting software. The most significant and developing trends and innovations responsible for presenting a new picture of the accounting industry have been identified. Accounting software nowadays has turned out much more complex due to cloud computing and automation. It has been made easy and comprehensive by advancements in artificial intelligence. The research will also discuss the role of these changes in businesses and accountants. In this regard, future trends in the area will also be highlighted.

Keywords: Trends, Innovation, Future Development and Directions