

Formulation and Evaluation of Cold Cream from Curcuma Longa & Orange Extract

Mr. Kawle Adinath Vishnu, Ms. Dongare K. A., Dr. Surwase K. P.

Aditya Institute of Pharmaceutical, Beed

Abstract: Cold creams are widely used semi-solid emulsions designed to moisturize, protect, and rejuvenate the skin. Traditionally, they are composed of oil and water phases stabilized by emulsifying agents. In recent years, there has been a rising demand for herbal cosmetic formulations due to concerns over synthetic chemicals and a global shift toward safer, eco-friendly skincare alternatives.

Keywords: Cold creams

