III. LITERATURE REVIEW

Long back resumes were created manually by using M S Word and the format at that time was quite different. These are the fields that applicants use to mention in their resume, in personal information applicant use to write their name, address, phone number. Applicants also used to mention their personal opinion in their resume that time applicants used to mention their both early and recent education details. Applicants used to create either too short or too long resumes because at that time their were no standard set for ideal length.

Impact Factor: 6.252

The advent of the Web brought about major changes in the way people search for jobs and companies look for suitable candidates [1]. Our tool is designed to conduct a thorough review of a user's LinkedIn profile and provide best recommendations for improved online resumes by analyzing a large number of online user profiles. [1]

We use vector to present job and resume and the core part is the Genetic Algorithm. [2] In addition to the professional resume builder, the suite contains a portfolio builder; training in interview skills; tools to assist in writing effective letters, developing a video resume, and skills assessment; and a website builder for the online presentation of proficiencies and abilities.[3]

The portfolio builder helps you create an online gallery of your work that can be downloaded as a PDF format. Online portfolios document your education, work samples, and skills.[3]

The portfolio builder provides information on organization, project tools, image displays, and how to share your portfolio.[3]

We started by using a naive, frequency-based skill ranking approach, which resulted in the most generic skills ranked on the top. We then adapted a number of alternative metrics and compared their performances on a number of job titles.[4]
